A bird watcher's paradise

➊ Go S from the car park on the road into the Spurn Head Nature Reserve past a couple of cottages at The Warren. Either continue following the road or walk along the beach on the E shore all the way down to the end of the Spurn Head peninsula. (7km)

➋ Retrace your steps back up the peninsula road or walk along the W shore to return to the Warren. Leave the road and bear NW along the W shore to reach the road in Kilnsea. Go E on the road to return to the car park and the start. (7½ km)

Spurn Point is a National Nature Reserve and dogs are totally banned.

They are not allowed into the reserve even if you intend to leave them locked in your car!

Due to elaborate Sea Defences Spurn Head is relatively stable - though this was not always the case. The whole spit was washed away in 1608 and a series of breaches reduced the peninsula to a series of islands in the 1840's and 1850's.
